

Common Sense
Economics
Education for Legislators and Voters

March 11, 2020

Time: 8 AM to 9 AM (CT)

Location: Hearing Room 2

REGISTRATION NOT REQUIRED!

PRESENTERS:

Tawni Hunt Ferrarini, PhD

Plaster Professor of Economic Education
Associate Director, Hammond Institute for Free
Enterprise, Lindenwood University
Coauthor of Common Sense Economics

Howard J. Wall, PhD

Professor of Economics, Plaster School of Business & Entrepreneurship
Director, Hammond Institute for Free Enterprise, Lindenwood University

ATTENTION - NEW TOPIC:

The Economics of the Coronavirus

This nonpartisan group will speak about the potential impact of the Coronavirus and how to communicate that impact to voters. Former Vice President and Regional Economics Advisor at the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis and the current director of the Hammond Institute at Lindenwood University, Howard Wall, will be available for questions. Resources will be mentioned.

FUTURE SESSIONS (Same time and location)

Wednesday, April 8	Wednesday, May 6
--------------------	------------------

This is a non-partisan educational opportunity. Professional jargon and heavy statistics that can alienate voters, will be limited, if used at all.

If you have questions or want to chat about this educational opportunity, please contact Jami McDermott by email at eec@lindenwood.edu or by phone at 636-949-4138. The Hammond Institute and Economic Education Center are part of Lindenwood University, a 501(c)(3) non-profit educational institution.